

If you only knew

If you only knew how long are these days and that every second without you tear off a part of the soul, if you knew that all these things reminds me of you,
those little things that bother me, those memories that stifle me.

If you knew how I smile to sun when it caress my face while I'm walking down the street while I'm imagining your gentle hands on my skin.

If you only knew
how caress sleepy violets on my window with my look wet of tears.
If you knew that I'm seeking for answers eaven from them, and hiding my fears deep in my lonely heart.
If you knew that I love you with a heart of a girl, so immature and honestly and insanely powerful and that you are the only one I care about...

If you only knew...
