

DIOGEN traži čovjeka
2012.
DIOGEN is seeking for human being

Samira Begman Karabeg

Samira Bergman Karabeg was born in 1954 in the village of Husimovci not far away from Sanski Most. She graduated in finance trade and management at the university of Zurich, where she lives since 1977. Samira writes poetry and prose in Bosnian and German language, and translates to both languages. Her works were represented in five anthologies published in Switzerland and Germany. Samira published three independent poetry books in Bosnian and two in German. She translated poetry of Tianxin Cai, a Chinese poet, from English to German. The book title is 'Song of the Quiet Life'. Her current translating project is the translation of Paul Celan's poems to Bosnian. Samira is the founder of Dhira publishing house which vision is 'Authors for Authors'. Through the publishing house she donated several hundreds of books to a number of city libraries and humanitarian associations operating in Bosnia and Herzegovina.

Among authors from 25 countries from all around the World has been included in Anthology "Poets for World Peace", 2011, published by DIOGEN pro culture magazine & DHIRA, Swiss.

Samira is the member of editorial board of MaxMinus, the web based satirical magazine and an assistant editor-in-chief of Diogen pro-culture magazine.

Samira Begman is a member of the Eastern Swiss writer's association.

WWW: <http://samirabegman.weebly.com/>

DIOGEN
pro kultura magazin pro culture magazine

<http://diogen.weebly.com>